

Contents

Preface.....	7
1 Food industry in Slovakia in the context of other industries.....	9
1.1 Summary view of the structure of the Slovak economy by selected industries.....	9
1.1.1 Summary overview of the added value of individual sectors.....	10
1.1.2 Summary overview of revenues of individual industries .....	12
1.1.3 Summary overview of the profit of individual industries.....	14
1.1.4 Segment analysis according to the Top 50 companies from selected industries .....	15
1.1.5 Added value per employee in the Top 50 companies of the given segments .....	9
1.1.6 Monthly wage costs per employee in the Top 50 companies in the given segments .....	10
1.1.7 Input data for sector comparison .....	12
2 Introduction to financial analysis.....	20
2.1 Users of financial analysis.....	22
2.2 Data sources for financial analysis.....	24
2.2.1 Financial statements defined according to Slovak accounting regulations .....	25
2.2.2 Balance sheet.....	26
2.2.3 Profit and loss statement .....	27
2.2.4 Notes that include a cash flow statement .....	28
2.3 Other data sources.....	29
3 Indicators used in financial analysis .....	33
3.1 Procedure and approach to financial analysis .....	33
3.1.1 Fundamental analysis.....	35
3.1.2 Technical analysis .....	35
3.2 Methods of financial analysis.....	36
3.3 Weaknesses of financial analysis .....	38
3.4 Analysis of absolute indicators .....	39
3.4.1 Trend analysis (horizontal analysis) .....	39
3.4.2 Percentage analysis (vertical analysis).....	40
3.5 Analysis of ratios.....	40
3.5.1 Liquidity ratios .....	42
3.5.2 Profitability indicators .....	44
3.5.3 Debt ratios .....	48
3.5.4 Indicators of activity.....	52
3.5.5 Market value indicators.....	55

3.5.6 Indicators of Cash flow .....	57
3.6 Analysis of difference indicators .....	59
3.6.1 Net working capital .....	60
3.6.2 Net ready assets .....	61
3.6.3 Net cash .....	62
3.7 Application of financial indicators for the evaluation of food businesses .....	62
3.7.1 Results for four clusters .....	68
3.7.2 Results for five clusters .....	71
4 Use of financial analysis in evaluating the value of food businesses using EVA and MVA indicators .....	74
4.1 EVA - Economic value added .....	76
4.1.1 Empirical research using the EVA indicator .....	79
4.1.2 Definition of the EVA indicator .....	81
4.1.3 EVA as a management tool .....	84
4.1.4 Steps in EVA calculation .....	86
4.1.5 Advantages and disadvantages of the EVA indicator .....	90
4.2 Market value added .....	92
4.2.1 Net operating assets .....	93
4.2.2 Exclusion of non - operating assets .....	94
4.2.3 Debt that is not interest .....	96
4.2.4 Net operating profit (NOPAT) .....	97
4.2.5 Calculation of cost of capital .....	98
4.3 Relation of accounting and economic profit .....	99
4.4 Economic profit .....	100
4.4.1 Calculation of EVA for food business .....	100
5 Analysis of the financial performance of companies in the food sector in the context of the crisis .....	106
5.1 Materials and Methods .....	106
5.2 Results .....	107
Conclusion.....	117